

Urban Runoff 5K Water Quality Contest

Watershed Quality Contest Overview:

In order to promote the implementation of local watershed quality stewardship projects, a portion of the proceeds generated from the Urban Runoff 5K (UR5K) will be awarded back to the community through one watershed quality award of $1000.00. Local Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) will have the opportunity to submit specific stewardship proposals that will be judged by the UR5K Planning Committee. The committee is seeking projects focused on Pollutant Runoff Reduction Implementation. Contest entries include any proposed project that involves the implementation/installation Best Management Practices (BMPs) that will improve runoff within a specific watershed. Examples BMPs could include, but not be limited to, rain gardens or other bio-retention basins, tree plantings, downspout disconnection, rain barrels, etc.

Application Guidelines:

Eligibility: The UR5K Prize can be awarded to any Non-Governmental Organization (NGO) that submits an application with a signed Implementation Certification Statement that attest the award money will be utilized to implement the project as submitted in the contest entry form. NGOs can submit proposals for both Watershed Quality Award categories. NGOs are not required to be tax-exempt organizations for eligibility in this contest.

Application Materials: Incomplete application forms will not be considered. The attached application must be completed in entirety, including signed Implementation Certification Statements.

Evaluation Guidelines:

UR5K Planning Committee: The UR5K Planning Committee will be comprised of a single member from the following organizations:

- Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) (Chairperson)
- Tennessee Department of Agriculture, Division of Forestry (TDA)
- Metro Water Services (MWS)
- Tennessee Stormwater Association (TNSA)

Each Watershed Quality Award entry will be evaluated/scored based on the following components:

- Overall Structure/Organization/Quality of the Proposal
- Potential Improvements to Watershed Quality
- Timeframe of Project Implementation

Contest Deadlines: Applications must be submitted prior to July 22, 2022. Contest award will be announced during the awards ceremony for the UR5K.
